What do students gain from this activity?

Students will experiment with contemporary art techniques and processes and manipulate a range of materials in a high school art classroom setting. They will solve innovative creative problems to produce two artworks by the end of the day. Firstly, students will explore collaged mixed media techniques to create an artwork on canvas and secondly they will illustrate to create a template that will be cut out of card to form a lamp.

Educator information:

Nicole Crerar has taught Visual Art for 24 years, 6 of these at Corinda SHS. More recently she has helped rebuild Digital Design in the junior school at Corinda, whereby students work with the Adobe Design Suite as well as other design programs. Nicole has a passion for Visual Art and Design and helping student ideas come to fruition.

Pam Leech is a senior experienced Visual Art teacher at Corinda SHS and has taught Visual Art for 23 years. Within those years, 11 of Pam's senior students have won the prestigious Creative Generation Visual Art Award, which allows students to exhibit their work at the Gallery of Modern Art (GOMA). Pam is passionate about contemporary conceptual art working within the sculptural and mixed media realms. She also teaches children and adults painting at the local Lilly-Lee Gallery in Sherwood.
